Medicare Open Enrollment in Alabama, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Learn more about how the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan may help people with Medicare.

CMS provides price and quality information to empower people with Medicare to choose coverage options that are the best fit for them. While reviewing their health care coverage, enrollees can consider new or different plans and possibly save money. Information on these resources is below.

Medicare Open Enrollment in Connecticut, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Medicare Open Enrollment in Hawaii, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Medicare Open Enrollment in Kansas, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Medicare Open Enrollment in Nebraska, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Medicare Open Enrollment in New York, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Medicare Open Enrollment in Oregon, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Learn more about how the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan may help people with Medicare.

CMS provides price and quality information to empower people with Medicare to choose coverage options that are the best fit for them. While reviewing their health care coverage, enrollees can consider new or different plans and possibly save money. Information on these resources is below.

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Medicare Open Enrollment in West Virginia, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. Medicare Plan Finder will be updated with the 2025 Medicare health and prescription drug plan information on October 1, 2024. 1-800-MEDICARE is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to provide help in English and Spanish as well as language support in over 200 languages.

In addition, Medicare enrollees can contact their State Health Insurance Assistance Programs for one-on-one assistance. People who want to keep their current Medicare coverage do not need to re-enroll.

To help with their Medicare costs, low-income seniors and adults with disabilities may qualify to receive financial assistance from the Medicare Savings Programs (MSPs). The MSPs help millions of Americans access high-quality health care at a reduced cost, yet only about half of eligible people are enrolled. The MSPs help pay Medicare premiums and may also pay Medicare deductibles, coinsurance and copayments if people meet the conditions of eligibility. Enrolling in an MSP reduces Medicare costs, helping people better afford other necessities like food, housing, or transportation. Learn more about MSPs.

Medicare Open Enrollment in Northern Mariana Islands, 2025

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) offers seniors, people with end-stage renal disease (ESRD), and people with disabilities several insurance options, including Traditional Medicare, Medicare Advantage, and Medicare Part D prescription drug plans. The costs and covered benefits of different plan options can change from year to year. People with Medicare can review coverage choices and make changes during Medicare Open Enrollment from October 15, 2024, through December 7, 2024.

Nationally, the average premiums and benefits for Medicare Advantage plans—private health plans that generally cover all Medicare Part A and Part B benefits—as well as plan choice will remain stable in 2025.

Total Medicare Part D premiums will also remain stable. In 2025, thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare prescription drug coverage will benefit from a $2,000 out-of-pocket cap on their annual prescription drug costs, further making prescription drugs more affordable for seniors and people with disabilities. Because of the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare coverage already see improved benefits, including a $35 cost-sharing limit on a month's supply of each covered insulin product and recommended adult vaccines under Medicare Part D at no cost. People with Medicare prescription drug coverage who fall into the catastrophic phase of the prescription drug benefit will not have to pay anything out of pocket during that phase for covered Medicare prescription drugs.

Thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act, people with Medicare may qualify for even more savings through the Extra Help program. This program helps some people pay their Medicare drug coverage (Part D) costs like premiums, deductibles, and cost sharing. In 2024, eligibility for Extra Help expanded—meaning more people are eligible to pay no deductible, no premium, and benefit from fixed lower copayments for certain medications. Learn more about the Extra Help program, including eligibility criteria and how to apply.

Additionally, the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan, which will be offered by all Part D plans starting in 2025, will allow people with Medicare Part D coverage the option to spread the costs of their prescription drugs over the calendar year. Learn more about how the Medicare Prescription Payment Plan may help people with Medicare.

CMS provides price and quality information to empower people with Medicare to choose coverage options that are the best fit for them. While reviewing their health care coverage, enrollees can consider new or different plans and possibly save money. Information on these resources is below.
