For the voting questions, use the following scale identifying level of confidence - with 1 being Not at all important to 5 representing Extremely Important.	Wall	Garrido	Fanaroff	Kobylarz	Isetts	Lewis	Dhruva	Young	Frankel	Voting Member Average
1 Surrogate markers, i.e., indirect assessments using biomarkers, physiologic measures, or imaging intended to predict or act as a proxy for a target outcome of interest. For example, percentage of time in hypoglycemia.	5	5	5	5	5	5	3	5	4	4.67
1 Not at all Important -2- 3 Somewhat Important -4- 5 Extremely Important

For the voting questions, use the following scale identifying level of confidence - with 1 being Not at all important to 5 representing Extremely Important.	Wall	Garrido	Fanaroff	Kobylarz	Isetts	Lewis	Dhruva	Young	Frankel	Voting Member Average
2 Health outcomes, i.e., direct assessments of a target outcome of interest. For example, complications of diabetes.	4	3	3	4	4	2	4	2	4	3.33
1 Not at all Important -2- 3 Somewhat Important -4- 5 Extremely Important

For the voting questions, use the following scale identifying level of confidence - with 1 being Not at all important to 5 representing Extremely Important.	Wall	Garrido	Fanaroff	Kobylarz	Isetts	Lewis	Dhruva	Young	Frankel	Voting Member Average
3 Quality of life, i.e., patient-reported assessments of symptom burden or function. For example, the Diabetes Distress Scale.	3	1	2	5	4	4	4	3	3	3.22
1 Not at all Important -2- 3 Somewhat Important -4- 5 Extremely Important

For the voting questions, use the following scale identifying level of confidence - with 1 being Not at all important to 5 representing Extremely Important.	Wall	Garrido	Fanaroff	Kobylarz	Isetts	Lewis	Dhruva	Young	Frankel	Voting Member Average
4 Device-related safety. For example, hypoglycemia-related emergency department visits.	4	3	5	4	4	4	4	4	1	3.67
1 Not at all Important -2- 3 Somewhat Important -4- 5 Extremely Important										