Medicare Diabetes Prevention Program (MDPP)

MDPP Supplier Road Map – Overview of MDPP Supplier Journey

CMS CENTERS FOR MEDICARE & MEDICAID SERVICES

What is an MDPP supplier?

An MDPP supplier is an organization that is enrolled in Medicare and can bill for MDPP services provided to eligible beneficiaries.

1. Apply for CDC recognition

Apply to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Diabetes Prevention Recognition Program (DPRP).

1. Submit an application online to become a CDC-recognized organization.

2. Offer the program for 12 months.

3. Submit evaluation data to CDC every 6 months.

2. Prepare to enroll as an MDPP supplier

Learn about MDPP enrollment requirements as you work towards CDC recognition.

- Visit the MDPP website and review enrollment materials such as the Enrollment Fact Sheet and the Enrollment Checklist.

- Organizations should obtain a separate NPI to be used for MDPP enrollment in order to reduce claim rejections and denials that may occur if multiple enrollments are associated with a single NPI.

3. Achieve CDC preliminary or full recognition

Organizations must obtain CDC preliminary or full DPRP recognition before enrolling as an MDPP supplier.

- CDC preliminary or full DPRP recognition helps assure that organizations have the capacity to become MDPP suppliers.

- Visit the CDC's Customer Support Center at https://nationaldppcsc.cdc.gov/s/ for information on CDC recognition.

4. Apply to become an MDPP supplier

Choose one of the options to enroll as an MDPP supplier after gaining CDC recognition:

- Enroll online online at https://pecos.cms.hhs.gov/pecos/login.do.

- Submit a paper CMS-20134 form.

5. Provide MDPP services and submit claims

MDPP suppliers can bill Medicare for delivering MDPP services.

MDPP Services:
- Include up to 2 years of sessions dependent on beneficiary weight loss and attendance.

- Follow a performance-based payment structure of up to $689 per eligible beneficiary.

MDPP Claims:
- Are only received when submitted through Medicare Administrative Contractors (MACs).
