

Medicare.gov Website Overview

Get Dialysis Facility Information

Medicare.gov is a federal website that includes data about dialysis facilities and the care they provide. The website features rating systems for dialysis facilities based on how well they meet quality measures and how patients answer the Medicare In-Center Hemodialysis Survey, also known as the ICH CAHPS Survey.

The updated Medicare.gov dialysis facility website offers a better user experience and easier navigation while still providing the same data.

Dialysis facilities can use Medicare.gov to view the latest quality measure and patient satisfaction ratings, as well as those of facilities across the country.
